The Rogue Story

One of my mates asked me to design a hat for him to wear in the bush. He said that there was nothing he'd seen in the shops that was 'right'. I asked him what was 'right'.

"Leather", he said "all leather and it must be the right colour. It must have a wide curved brim with a stiffener around the edge to keep the shape even if I drive over it."

So we stitched it double in case he does.

"Shape." He said. "Get the shape right and call it 'Rogue' and I'll be your first customer."

So we did and he was...

I see him often and he still wears that hat. He designed your hat – we only make them.

How do I protect myself from UV rays?

Wear a Hat!

According to the American Cancer Society, a hat with at least a 50 - 75mm brim all round is ideal because it protects areas such as the ears, eyes, forehead, nose and scalp that are often exposed to intense sun.

ROGUE full leather or canvas hats have a brim size of between 60 - 80mm and deliver excellent Ultraviolet Protection, a UPF 50+ or 97% block-out of harmful UVA/UVB radiation.

Where you see the sun icon throughout this brochure you can be sure that you will be safe from even the harshest African sun.

Dear Valued Customer

Southern Africa has a rich heritage of outdoor living and a strong pioneering spirit. We live in a region with vast open areas, abundant wildlife, fantastic scenery and beautiful weather. Put this together and we have an environment conducive to leisure travel and adventure.

Now in our 36th year of operation, Selke Leathercraft is producing an exciting range of ROGUE products in leather and canvas, aimed at meeting the growing demand from our customers for quality and good value. Our goods are very proudly Southern African made in our two factories in Hazyview and Mozambique and the increased demand for our products locally and internationally has underlined the legacy of the brand, whilst retaining our core values and being true to our origins.

Selke Leathercraft is highly focused on being innovative and progressive in new product design. Our recent developments include the Pack-A-Way range of folding hats, our Big 5 Collection of game leather articles and our most recent development – Tin Cloth – offers an exciting and unique addition to our range of products, the full possibilities of which have yet to be explored.

This new catalogue offers you, our customer the most comprehensive collection of Rogue headwear, luggage, footwear and belts to date. The products we make, we use and when we use them they must be good and stay true to the authenticity of the Outdoors.

Yours Sincerely

Trevor Selke

Rogue Fullgrain Leather

The most genuine of leathers, as it retains all the natural markings and texture of the original hide, with the minimum treatment. Rogue 2mm fullgrains are dyed to colour and treated with a blend of oils and waxes to give a supple yet durable end product, becoming softer and more attractive with wear and age.

Rogue Breezy

A popular option in warmer climates, made with our Cotton Mesh crowns across the full range – Fullgrain, Suede and Canvas. Better and more effective than eyelets, the mesh gives all-round air flow for a 'cool' head on a hot day. The Breezy comes standard with a forehead protector.

 The mesh used in our BREEZY range constitutes more than 3% of the component quantity therefore we are unable to claim a UPF 50+ factor. However, the hat is cooler and the broad brim does protect the eyes, nose and ears to the same level as the others.

Rogue Tin Cloth

Back in the 1800's, loggers, miners and outdoorsmen around the world relied on the strength and durability of waxed canvas to protect them from the elements. In logger's slang, 'Tin Cloth' referred to the stiffness, water resistance and strength of the cloth they made. And so it was born – Tin Cloth, – made from 100% Cotton Canvas in a 510g weight and impregnated with a blend of natural oils and waxes. In a world of synthetics and cheap trash, why not re-create a Legend? Tin Cloth is a unique fabric that improves with wear and age.
